way, when he was running in the Gorman colors two years ago.

Hucena may put the Einstein stable in the list of winning owners to-day. She ran an indifferent race in a four-horse field last out, but the slow early pace hurt her chances somewhat. She was in with others who were faster sprinters at a short distance than herself, and Nath Woodstock managed to last the longer. Exape and Uranium look next best.

In the opening race, Feronia may win. She has shown fair form lately and should be able to beat out Fizer's John and Cressida. Barnacle would once have looked well here, but it seems as if he must be passed up to-day.

Everybody who follows racing knows that Jim Gore, when at himself, is knows that Jim Gore, when at himself, is capable of doing much better than he has done at the Union track.

The excellent race run by Maru a few days ago cannot be overlooked. Getting off twenty lengths behind his field, he closed the gap, took to the outside in the stretch turn and then ran fourth. On this showing Maru should win the race, Jim Gore second and Will Shelly third.

Doctor Spruil looks attractive in the first race. The Doctor has won two races in handy fashion and there is nothing in this field to hamper him.

THE REPUBLIC'S DAILY RACING FORM CHARTS. PRINCESS ORNA WON FROM REVERE

Hayes's Filly Captured Two-Year-Old Event at Delmar-Frank Collins First at Long Odds.

One of the best finishes witnessed at the Delmar track since its opening occurred in the third race yesterday, when Princess Orna and Paul Revere finished first and second in the four and one-half furlong lash for 2-year-olds.

For the last sixteenth, the youngsters ran stride for stride, Princess Orna having a slight advantage. Jockey Austin Messenger was capable of doing, and he was riding rather easily, apparently conwas riding rather easily, apparently con-tented with his advantage of a head. Twenty yards from the wire, Watson sud-denly drew his whip and laced Paul Revere sharply, the Grant colt springing forward and getting his head in the lead once By shaking Princess Orna vigorously

Austin got her neck in front in the last two strides. No better exemplification of ing his horse out chasing them, Beland the uncertainties of horse racing could be waited until they had spent their speed two strides. No better exemplification of the uncertainties of horse racing could be afforded than this contest, as, had Watson delayed drawing his whip for one more stride, the sudden jump on Paul Revere's parr would probably have sent the colt's nose over the line first.

Joe Kelley got off well in this event and set a hot pace. Midway between stable and stretch turns, the Baker colt hit the mushole which has existed since the track was opened, and dropped back to the rear, lie finished, rather shaken up, a poor last, Gasconne, from the Figer stable, did not reilsh the track as she did the soft going of list Saturday, and was an indifferent third.

The time was :55%, the first time the distance has been rum under the minute mark since the course was opened.

The second race was won by Lady Ray, though had Sting been able to get to the front in the early stages, as she did on her list out, the tale might have been different. Sting was a strong second after going around her field. The soft place on the track interfered hadly with two horses in this race, Sweet Dream breaking hering a further on.

Frank Collins, at 3 to 1, came home ahead of a good field in the fourth race. He won easily enough, but it appears a to swhether he won on his merits or through racing fuck. That he had speed of a high order was apparent. But the manner in which Light Opera and Harmakis closed ground behind him made it appear as if they could have altered the result had they broken in better positions. Harmakis was off very badiy, and made it appear as if they could have altered the result had they broken in better positions. There are thousands of men deceived by unskilled doctors, who claim to cure Varicocele by applications of medicines, electricity, suspensories and many other deceptive schemes, and this is why there are so many who have become so skeptical as to think there is no cure for them.
